

Creata dal designer e architetto Enrico Franzolini nel 1997, Gilda si distingue per il suo enorme paralume in tessuto, sospeso su un treppiede regolabile ispirato agli strumenti dei fotografi professionisti. Frutto di un perfetto equilibrio tra contemporaneità e stile classico, Gilda è disponibile in tante diverse finiture. L'utilizzo di diversi materiali per il paralume corrisponde a differenti sensazioni tattili, visive e luminose.

Created by designer and architect Enrico Franzolini in 1997, Gilda stands out for its huge fabric lampshade, suspended on an adjustable tripod inspired by professional photographer's tools. As a result of a perfect balance between contemporarity and classic style, Gilda is available in many different finishes. Using various materials for the lampshade corresponds to several tactile, visual and bright emotions which take life in any ambience.
